ECO-UNESCO Launches the Green Pathways Training Programme

ECO-UNESCO is delighted to announce the launch of the Green Pathways, training and employment programme. This brand new initiative has been designed to provide young, long-term job-seekers with strong environmental, business, communications and leadership skills through training and work placement.

The programme offers three Pathway Options; Green Leader path, Green Enterprise path or Green Youth and Community path. Through a programme of intensive learning and work-placements, participants come away with FETAC-accredited qualifications that will make them uniquely employable in the future.
